Week 2 in the XFL began with a matchup of two 1-0 teams. The DC Defenders had no trouble taking care of business against the New York Guardians, rattling Matt McGloin to the point of a quarterback change and watching Cardale Jones shine for the second straight week en route to a 27-point rout.

The Seattle Dragons, meanwhile, started slow in front of a roaring CenturyLink crowd but held on for a defensively-fueled 17-9 victory over Marc Trestman's Tampa Bay Vipers.
